Post Faced With $7 Million Suit

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. UPI — Mississippi's public safety commissioner filed a $1 million libel suit against the Saturday Evening Post Friday, claiming the Post defamed the Mississippi Highway Patrol.

Col. T. B. Birdsong, head of the patrol, based the suit on a story, "What Next in Mississippi," he said it was published "with intent to defame" the patrolmen's action in the University of Mississippi integration crisis.

He said the story tried to pin the patrol with "a sizable portion of the blame" for the riots in which two persons were killed and scores injured when Negro James Meredith was brought to the school to register last year.

Military Leaders Take Charge In South Viet Nam

Senate Continues Aid Bill Debate

WASHINGTON UPI — The Senate moved into its second week of debate today on the foreign aid bill with a vote expected on a proposal to chop $385 million from the delayed $4.2 billion measure.

To forestall a growing demand for further reductions, the Senate leadership has proposed a single cut of $385 million in authorization recommended by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in its own bill. President Kennedy had asked for $4.5 billion for another year of military and economic aid overseas. The House trimmed this by $1 billion.

Troops Dig In At Desert Town

RABAT, Morocco UPI — Heavily armed Moroccan and Algerian troops dug in today at the Moroccan desert town of Figuig, where fighting has flared despite a cease-fire between the two North African nations.

Unconfirmed reports said both sides still were lobbing shells at each other around Figuig Sunday night in defiance of the two-day-old cease-fire in the undeclared border war over a strip of Sahara Desert land rich in iron ore and other minerals.

Moroccan troops still were holding Figuig, an oasis town of 8,000 persons 37 miles northeast of the Algerian command post of Colomb Bechar.

Other reports said fighting had broken out Sunday near the Moroccan town of Oujda, about 200 miles north of Figuig near the Mediterranean coast.

They were elected to represent Putnam County Farm Bureau as voting delegates and alternates in the business session of the convention, when policies of the organization are redefined. This year delegates will be particularly concerned about the direction of future farm legislation. Having soundly defeated the 1963 wheat program proposed by the Congress, farmers attending the convention are expected to register disapproval of government supply-management proposals and to urge approval of voluntary programs to bring farm production in line with demand.

Speaking for the local organization on policy matters will be: Mrs. Glendon Herbert and Charles Baldwin.

Other Farm Bureau members who will attend part or all of the convention include Mrs. Maureen Aker, Clifford Hillis, and Glendon Herbert.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam UPI — South Viet Nam's victorious military leaders today worked on plans for a new government and took precautions to keep mobs from desecrating the bodies of deposed President Ngo Dinh Diem and his adviser-brother Ngo Dinh Nhu.

Communist propaganda broadcasts called the military coup that overthrew Diem Saturday "a farce" and charged that the new leadership in South Viet Nam, like Diem's, was controlled by "U.S. Imperialism."

Diem and Nhu were reported assassinated Saturday by reliable military sources who contradicted a rebel version that their deaths came by suicide. The sources reported another key figure in the Diem regime was executed Sunday-Col. Le Quang Tung, commander of the special forces, which served as Diem's palace guard.

Elections May Show Trend For Next Year

The Fillmore Cardinals started their basketball season off right Saturday night with a new coach, a renovated hardwood court, and a 98-51 victory over the Lizton Blazers. Cardinal Coach John Butterworth made his debut along with a smoothly coordinated Fillmore team. The Fillmore Quintet drew first blood of the game and kept the lead throughout the quarters.

Using a 2-1-2 zone defense and fast ball handling, the Cardinals kept the game moving at a fast pace. Their 21 point lead at half-time was briefly threatened early in the third quarter when the Blazers started to find the net. But the threat ended as Cards fought back. The ex-coach from Muncie, Coach Butterworth, promises to have an excellent team.

One of your big advantages as declarer is that your opponents cannot see each other's cards. This prevents them from making a certain kind of good play that would be routine if they had X-ray eyes.

South wins the first trick with the ace of spades and plans to draw trumps and run the diamonds. South goes down if he goes at it hammer and tongs. Suppose South leads out the ace of hearts and then gets to work on the diamonds. East ruffs the third diamond and returns the queen of clubs. Now the defenders get three club tricks, defeating the contract.

"Bad luck!" South exclaims. "I would have made my contract if West had the second trump; or if East had three or more diamonds; or even if East had the ace of clubs."

All very true, and South is entitled to a tear or two of sympathy. Don's sob your heart out for poor South, because he should make the contract despite all the bad breaks.

PROPER TRUMP PLAY

The proper way to play the trumps is to lead the suit first from the dummy. After winning the first trick with the ace of spades, South leads a diamond to dummy's ten and returns a low trump from dummy.

If East could see his partner's hand, he would step up with the king of hearts. Under the actual conditions of play East cannot afford to play his king; West might have the singleton ace, and East would never hear the end of it.

East is compelled to play the jack of hearts, and South shrewdly plays low. West must win with the queen of hearts, and South later draws the last trump with his ace.

West wins the only trump trick for his side and cannot collect three club tricks. South has time to discard a club on one of dummy's diamonds, and the contract is therefore unbeatable.

CLARK F. NORTON

In a democracy it is important that voters know and understand principles held by those who are running for public office. It seems doubly important that those who are seeking reelection to office make crystal clear their viewpoints and convictions to help the public make an intelligent decision at the polls.

For this reason I am submitting below a brief summary of some of the major ideas and actions which have been openly expressed or taken by me in public meetings by the City Council during the last eight years. Although this list is not complete, partly because of record deficiencies, it reports accurately from the official Minutes of the City Council under dates listed a number of motions, resolutions, requests, suggestions and votes on some major issues which have confronted the city government.

Not recorded there are my votes on numerous ordinances and resolutions, some of which are very important, in which I had no special part or which were adopted unanimously and are well known to the public as accomplishments of the last eight years.

Improvement of City Government Operations

January 14, 1957—motion that training of volunteer firemen be through regular fire department with fire chief in charge.

July 28, 1958—introduced motion that semi-annual reports be submitted to the city council by all city boards and commissions, such as Airport Board, Cemetery Board, Park Board, Planning Commission, Water Board, etc.

November 28, 1958—pointed out the need for redrawing the city ward lines in order to make each ward more equal in population and provide better representation.

January 12, 1959—introduced motion that information be obtained from U. S. Census Bureau on population of wards to help in establishing new ward lines.

April 11, 1960—motion to increase liability insurance coverage on city trucks.

April 25, 1960—introduced motion that the office of the City Clerk be open to the public at least four hours per day.

June 13, 1960—requested the Council to explore the possibility of making the present city-owned airport into a joint city-county airport supported by both governments.

December 12, 1960—requested again that the city ward lines be redrawn on a more equitable population basis.

July 10, 1961—asked for the City Judge to submit a report to the Council on the amount of business and fees collected by the Municipal Court.

October 23, 1961—introduced again the matter of redistricting the city into more equitable ward areas.

November 26, 1962—introduced a resolution directing the City Judge to report to the City Council on the amount of business conducted, number and kinds of cases, amounts of fines and fees levied, etc. by the Municipal Court. The Council passed this resolution unanimously because it was believed important to have this information in order to determine whether or not the court should be continued or abolished. No report was ever received from the City Judge.

Planning and Zoning

September 14, 1957—voted no on rezoning property on Bloomington Street on ground it was "spot" zoning and that Planning Commission believed an appeal should be made to the Board of Zoning Appeals for a variance.

September 28, 1957—explained "no" vote on rezoning on Bloomington Street. The Planning Commission had unanimously opposed the action as "spot zoning." Injustices in individual zoning matters should seek variances rather than changes in zoning ordinances.

September 27, 1957—introduced motion to adopt zoning ordinance for the two mile "fringe" area.

July 8, 1963—voted no on annexation of new area to city on grounds that the matter had not first been submitted for consideration to the Planning Commission as provided by ordinance and that there was no urgent emergency which required by-passing the Planning Commission.

July 22, 1963—proposed that the city subdivision ordinance be referred to the Planning Commission for study and recommendation to prevent new subdivisions being built in the city without approval of the Planning Commission and the City Council.

Streets and Sidewalks

A REPORT TO THE PEOPLE OF THE CITY OF GREENCASTLE FROM YOUR COUNCILMAN AT LARGE

State Blanked By Tiger Eleven

DePauw turned on its defensive magic against Indiana State Saturday before a jammed Dad's Day crowd and scored a lopsided 21-0 victory over the Sycamores. State, picked early in the season to take the Indiana Collegiate Conference crown, which incidentally Butler copped Saturday in beating Valparaiso, was in the game score-wise until the last 12:34, then the proverbial roof fell.

As far as dominating the action and statistics, the Tigers had matters pretty well in hand most of the afternoon.

Before scoring those three last quarter touchdowns they had been stymied on field goal attempts from the State 25 in the first quarter, the State 18 in the third quarter and even drove to the State 10 before time ran out at the half.

The Sycamores, on the other hand, probed, probed deep in DePauw territory only once. That was a drive created by Willy Smith's recovery of Bruce Mackey's fumble on the DePauw 34. State drove to the Tiger one-yard line but was stopped three times inside the five-yard line.

DePauw dominated the statistics, taking rushing 197 yards to 102, passing 53-16, and first downs 17-8. Bill Alcott, banged up in bruising line play, added 79 Tiger yards in 20 carries to pace all rushers.

When the turning point came it was quick and sudden.

On the next to the last play of the third quarter John Thomas, DePauw junior guard from Huntington, smacked down a punt by the ICC's leading kicker. DePauw's smashing reserve fullback, Tod Eberle recovered on the State 25 and ran it to the 15. Doug Weir scored his first touchdown of the season seven plays later.

Skip Williams' fumble on the DePauw 33 moments later appeared to put the Sycamores back in the game. They gave it up, however, three yards and four plays later.

DePauw got its second touchdown when defensive back Bob Gardner, a Chicago junior, snared a desperation State pass on the Sycamore 46. He sprinted with it back to the 31, and quarterback Bruce Mackey "sneaked" 31 yards with it on the next play for the game's second TD.

Dick Dean kicked his second conversion and the matter appeared settled at 14-0 with 86

But DePauw's reserves were hungry too.

On the ensuing kickoff State's Don Pope ran the kick back to his own 25. Met there by a flock of Tigers, he dropped the ball and Gardner made his second thett in less than two minutes.

Sophomore reserve quarterback Dave Joyce connected on a 15-yard pass later, making the man two plays later, making the score 20-0. Dick Dean's third kick made the final count 21-0 with 39 seconds remaining to play.

The win elevated DePauw to a tie for fourth at 2-3 in the ICC. Next Saturday the Tigers go to Valparaiso then return home for the 71st renewal of the Monon Bell series on November 16.

Political Panel Held By Society

"Changing Patterns in Politics" was the topic of a panel discussion presented by four members of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society at the home of Mrs. Harold Hardman on Saturday evening, November 2. Mrs. Harold Garriott, Dr. Marian Brock, and Mrs. Edward Scobee, were members of the panel with Mrs. Charlotte Peterson acting as Moderator.

This program marked the first of a series which will be presented by the Society during the year on the general topic "Changing Patterns in American Culture."

Mrs. Peterson's opening remarks covered the general changes in our political patterns which have gradually emerged since the beginning of the 1900's. The emergence of two strong political parties and of weaker, often radical, parties; the overlapping of the two party platforms; the apathy of the American voters; and the gradual decentralization of authority in the parties were among the points pertinently commented upon by the moderator.

The panel members followed with a discussion of the specific changes in patterns beginning with the Progressive Era of Theodore Roosevelt to the present. Mrs. Garriott, the first speaker, summarized the trends found in the administrations of Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson, Harding and Hoover, ending in the great economic collapse in 1929.

Because of absence of one of the panel members, Mrs. Peterson presented a summary of the many accomplishments of the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt with the accent here on legislation for temporary and permanent care of the needy, the repeal of the Prohibition Amendment, the passage of the first Federal Relief Act and the Social Security Act, the formation of W.P.A., the establishing of T.V.A., and an attempt to control farm prices. In general, the speaker indicated that during this administration the government was gradually attempting to gain more and more control of economic affairs.

The second panelist, Dr. Brock, centered her comments on the administration of Harry S. Truman. His infamous 80th Congress and its passage of the Marshall Plan, his re-election against all odds in 1948, and the Fair Deal policy emerging during his term of office were a few of the many points brought out by the speaker.

Mrs. Scobee, the last panelist, brought the discussion to a conclusion by saying, in part, that there is now a clear-cut emergence of the independent voter and that the enigma of the American voter is ever more in focus. The rise of the new middle class, as well as that of the welfare state, has constituted an obvious change in the pattern of American politics during the last four or five decades.

Mrs. Peterson concluded her summarizing remarks by urging all members of the Society to vote on Tuesday, November 5.

Mrs. Staten Owens is president of the local chapter. Hostesses for the meeting were Miss Leah Curnett, Miss Muriel Holland, Miss Louise Knauer, Miss Thelma Neier, Dr. Edith Sublette, Mrs. Edna Hayes Taylor, and Miss Elizabeth Daggy.

Woman's Society Of Christian Service Meeting

The Southeast Sub-District of the Terre Haute District Woman's Society Of Christian Service of the Methodist Church will meet on November 14 at the Carbon church for an all day meeting.

The meeting will start with registration at 9:15 Eastern Standard Time with Mrs. J. Homer Loveall Sub-District leader presiding. Mrs. Buel Horn, District Secretary of Spiritual Life will give the devotions followed by special music by Mrs. Howard Downen of Carbon and Mrs. John McFarland of Greencastle.

Eight Agencies Probe Explosion

INDIANAPOLIS UPI— Eight investigating agencies opened a blue-ribbon inquiry today into the cause of a Halloween explosion which killed 68 and injured more than 300 watching an ice show at the Indiana State Fair grounds Coliseum.

Three witnesses assembled to tell investigators of the blast at a hearing in the Indiana State Office Building, and others now hospitalized or recuperating at home from injuries were slated to appear later.

State Fair Marshal Ira Anderson disclosed that one of the 68 dead was an employee of the concessions area where the blast occurred, presumably from bottle gas Anderson said was used in violation of the law.

Margaret Evans, 50 Pittsboro, was among the dead. Anderson said she was one of five employees on duty in the concession area. He said evidence indicated when the employees saw a "blue fog" and realized an explosion was imminent, they ran toward safety. He said she turned to the left and the other four turned to the right. She was killed and the others escaped with their lives.

Frozen Vitamins Spark Soup, Sauces

Approximately one-third of the minerals and vitamins in canned vegetables is lost when the liquid is poured off, say nutritionists in the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

One way to save this valuable liquid is to pour it into ice trays, freeze it in the freezer section of your electric refrigerator-freezer, then store the cubes in plastic bags until you need liquid to add to gravy, soup, or sauces. It will make them tastier and more nutritious.

Insulation Needed For All-Year Use Of Finished Attic

If finishing the attic to add living space is on your do-it-yourself schedule this year, don't waste time and money creating a room that's going to be too hot for comfort in summer and unbearably cold in winter.

Invest a little extra time and money to insulate it adequately now and you'll reap dividends in comfort and fuel savings far into the future. Installing mineral wool insulation to recommended standards usually pays for itself in a few years through savings on heating and cooling costs.

Even if you're not handy enough to tackle the rest of the attic finishing work, you should have no problem installing batts or blankets of mineral wool. No special tools are required—just a sharp knife and a heavy-duty staple gun, which you can probably rent or borrow.

Here are a few points to keep in mind:

To insulate the whole attic space, staple insulation across the collar beams and down the rafters to the wall plate.

To insulate just the living space within the attic, staple insulation across the collar beams, down the rafters and knee wall studs and along the ceiling joists to the wall plate.

Don't cover vents. Air circulation is important both winter and summer.

Staples should be placed no more than six inches apart. Be sure to butt ends of batts or blankets tightly. Fill any irregular spaces with mineral wool torn from a batt and then cover the area with vapor barrier.

SPARTANS OVERRUN BADGERS 30-13—Wisconsin halfback Fred Reichardt (48) is brought down hard by Spartan guard John Karpinski (bottom) and guard Earl Lattimer (76) after taking a 14-yard pass from quarterback Harold Brandt during the first quarter of the Michigan State-Wisconsin game. Little Sherman Lewis, (here moving in to help on the tackle) set the pace for the afternoon by going 87 yards on a pass play when the game was only 3 minutes old as the Spartans turned back the 1962 conference champions 30-13 to put their own bid in for the 1963 Big Ten championship.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Transportation For Injured

TRANSPORTATION of the injured after an accident always presents a formidable problem to solicitous witnesses. Even trained personnel are conscious of the potential hazards of subjecting the patient to too many changes of position en route to the hospital.

It is difficult to estimate the amount of additional damage that can be caused when patients with fractures or spinal injuries are "overhauled" while being transported from the site of injury to their hospital bed.

Moved Too Often
An important study performed by Dr. Jesse T. Littleton of Sayre, Pennsylvania, revealed that "the average number of times that a fractured patient was moved between the scene of the accident and his arrival in a hospital bed was 7.1 times. In some instances, the number of moves made was as many as 11."

Even with ambulance equipment, Dr. Sayre's study showed that there were many moves following the initial one from the site of the accident. Patients were transferred from the canvas ambulance stretcher to the hospital stretcher, then lifted to the X-Ray table. After this, they were moved back to the hospital stretcher and finally into their beds. Probably three or four additional moves were necessary when the patient needed surgery or bone-setting.

Single Device
With a single device, Dr. Littleton has found a way of transporting a patient from the scene of an accident without having to be moved again until he reaches his hospital bed. This "wooden stretcher" is so designed that the patient can remain on it while he is being moved from one department to another in the hospital.

Dr. Littleton describes his stretcher as "a single slab of 3/4 inch plywood, 2 feet by 6 1/2 feet, with four carrying handles that can be used for all the patient's moves, to the ambulance and in the hospital. It is fitted with a foam mattress that does not interfere with the clarity of the X-Ray pictures when it is placed on the X-Ray table." When one considers that there are more than 9,000,000 accidents of varying degrees of severity occurring each year in America, the contribution of Dr. Littleton and his associates becomes more conspicuous. They have well earned the gratitude of the many patients who will be spared the pain and complications that can arise with multiple moves following their injury.

SIMPLE FIRST AID RULES

It is unfortunate that not everyone is capable of giving complicated first aid to the injured at the scene of an accident. Even those who have been trained often forget the techniques they once learned.

A few simple rules should be known by everyone. Call for a doctor or an ambulance immediately. Until such help arrives, it is best to share the responsibility with another person.

They Give Security

The Police and Fire Departments are particularly well equipped to help in most emergencies. Their presence gives a great sense of security to the injured. Their training in first aid can often be life-saving.

Don't attempt to move the injured yourself. Keep the patient warm and covered. Under no circumstances, give him any alcohol to drink.

Tourniquets should be applied for bleeding only by those expertly trained. Bleeding in most instances can be controlled by firm pressure at the site of bleeding with a handkerchief or towel.

Keep talking to the patient and reassure him that competent medical help is on the way.

Simple measures, calmly performed, until professional help can take over, is the basis of first aid.

These columns are designed to relieve your fears about health through a better understanding of your mind and body. All the hopeful new advances in medicine reported here are known to doctors everywhere.

Your individual medical problems should be handled by your own doctor. He knows you best.

St. Louis Cards Get Roger Craig

ST. LOUIS UPI—The St. Louis Cardinals today traded lefthand-hitting outfielder George Altman and a minor league player to the New York Mets for righthand pitcher, Roger Craig.

Altman, 30, acquired from the Chicago Cubs by the Cardinals 1st. winter in the deal that sent Larry Jackson and Lindsay McDaniel to Chicago, batted a disappointing .274 last season.

Billed as a power hitter, Altman came up with only nine home runs and had 47 runs batted in.

In addition to Altman, the Mets will get righthand pitcher Bill Wakefield.

Craig, who had been mentioned in Cardinal trade rumors last season, is a 62-year-old athlete who compiled a 15-46 record with the Mets in two years. Last season his earned run average was 3.78.

Wakefield is a one-time bonus pitcher from the Kansas City area. A 22-year-old athlete, he had a 3-7 record last season at Tulsa and was 1-3 at Atlanta. He has been in pro ball three years.

Spareribs Are Fatal To Man

MUNCIE UPI—The death of a man and the critical poisoning of a woman at a motel here Sunday was blamed tentatively on rancid barbecued spareribs. Calvin Winsler McDonald, 39, Muncie, had been dead about 10 hours in the motel room when police and the county coroner finally were notified.

Police first learned of the incident when Mrs. Emma Barrett, 40, New Castle, staggered into the motel office.

"I'm ill," she said. "And the man in there is cold and stiff in bed."

Mrs. Barrett told authorities

she and McDonald ate barbecued spareribs at a dance earlier in the evening. Remnants of the food were found in the motel and impounded for examination.
